Metz Durham, Owner of Bob The Fearless, Finds Carmel Unrecognizable

By RAYLYN PENNEY

"Metz" Durham came back to Carmel to visit this week.

The one-time Carmel hardware dealer, who is now police commissioner of Nottingham, England, and his wife spent their time enjoying the company of old friends and staring with more than a little awe at the changes in their former home town.

The couple, who moved to Carmel in 1924 to operate a hardware business on Ocean Avenue between Junipero and San Carlos, moved to England in 1932 and hadn't returned since.

But in their relatively brief Carmel residency they made some imprints on Carmel history that the old-timers and even some of the new-timers have never forgotten. Most of this renown revolved around their ownership of "Bob," the fearless police dog who was, and undoubtedly still is, the most famous dog Carmel ever had.

Mr. Durham, an imposingly-built man with dark wavy hair who looks and talks more like an English city official than a Carmel merchant, reminisced with affection about the courageous canine, whose portrait (by Mrs. Strong) still hangs in Sunset School.

"He was a sickly runt with a stubby tail that the breeder had decided to put to sleep," Durham recalled. "But we liked him and bought him for the amount of his keep. We were warned he wouldn't ever be much good because he was such a coward, and sure enough, on one of his first Carmel walks a much smaller dog barked at him and he rolled over in the gutter, terrified."

"One day I went for a drive with him when he began whining and chewing up the upholstery. I thought he was having some kind of seizure and stopped to let him

New Teachers Form Fourth Of Carmel District Faculty

Twenty-eight new teachers join the Carmel Unified School District faculty when school opens next month, most of them replacements for teachers who have retired, married, taken jobs elsewhere, or are on sabbatical leave. Only three are additions, bringing the total number of teachers in the district schools to 113.

The new teachers will attend orientation meetings August 29 and 30, and an all-faculty meeting on September 1.

There will be five new teachers at the high school. Miss Laura B. Carmany, who has just received her degree at Oregon State will teach home arts. Duncan Faus, another Oregon State graduate, who has been teaching seven years, the last two in Pacific Grove, will teach mathematics. Mrs. Mira Jordan, who has been assigned Latin and German, has taught six years in European schools and is a graduate of the University of Sofia.

Budget Emerges From Council Sessions With Face Unchanged

Last night the Carmel City Council completed its budget studies and voted four to one to instruct the city clerk to bring in a resolution for adoption of the revised budget and another for setting the tax rate at 81 cents.

This is 36 cents less than last year's property tax of $1.17.

The council and the city clerk, with mercy in their hearts for Carmel property owners who have just had their property re-evaluated by the county assessor to the extent of $4,000,000 increase, have adopted a budget and set a tax rate that will equalize the blow. The school district board reduced the school tax rate not one cent, gobbling up an additional $160,000 the re-evaluation will give them. When the taxpayer gets his inflated bill he should realize that the heavy increase represents school district and not city taxes.

After Monday's and last night's shifts in budget items, a $1000 off here, $300 on there, the budget

Planners Continue Public Hearing On AFA Headquarters

Yesterday afternoon's public hearing on a request of the Monterey Peninsula chapter of the American Federation of Arts to establish headquarters in the former Forest Hill School, situated in the residence zone, was continued by planning commissioners until next Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

Commissioners took this action in order that all residents of the area may have ample time to state their views on the matter. They added that after they closed a recent public hearing on a parochial school on All Saints' Episcopal Church grounds, "an avalanche of protests" against the school poured in and could not be considered as the public hearing was officially closed. Yesterday afternoon's con-

All Saints' Will Appeal Planners' Denial Of School

Planning commissioners, yesterday afternoon, denied the request of All Saints' Episcopal Parish for a use permit to conduct an elementary parochial school on church premises at Dolores and Ninth Streets in the residence zone. The Reverend David Hill, rector of All Saints' Parish in a written statement said that the planning commission denial will be appealed to the city council.

Senator Fred Farr told us that one of the fruits of Governor Edmund G. Brown's visit to Carmel last week end is a veto for the billboard bill, amended into ineffectuality and passed at the last session of the legislature. Senator Farr, its sponsor, disowned the bill in its final form, and got the promise of Governor Brown to veto it.

A no-good billboard bill is worse than no billboard bill, according to Senator Farr, who feels that the governor's veto will clear the way for a new fight for a new bill.

They are blacktopping "short-cut" paths between the newest buildings up at the high school. "We've taken a leaf out of the University of California Book," High School Principal Warren Edwards says. "They don't landscape or put in permanent paths around new buildings for several years. They wait to see which way student traffic goes and then surface the paths the students themselves have made."

Think of the saving in keep off the grass signs!

Monday, Monterey County Board of Supervisors decided to appeal Superior Court Judge Anthony Brazil's ruling against the county billboard ordinance. The vote was three to one, Supervisor Harold Henry of King City voting no. Supervisor Frank Echeberria of San Ardo was absent.

Supervisor Tom Hudson, from this district, urged the appeal, pointing out the wide interest in the ordinance outside Monterey county and County Counsel William Stoffers' faith in it.

We congratulate Tom Hudson, the yes voting supervisors, and Counsel Stoffers on their good sense. No matter what billboard ordinance the county might adopt it would be fought by the billboard interests unless written to their specifications.

Even if the county should devise an ordinance that would satisfy Judge Brazil, if it required the removal of any existing billboards, the billboard companies would appeal. Short of complete surrender, Monterey county will have to fight for a billboard ordinance up through the courts. It might as well be for an ordinance worth the fight, as this one is.

Commissioners voted to accept the report of the land use committee on the proposed Episcopal grade school. The report stated that establishment of the school on the church premises was in conflict with the general nature of the district; the school would also adversely affect property in the area; and thirdly, adversely affect the character of the neighborhood which already has two non-residential uses, Carmel Foundation Town House and the American Red Cross chapter house, in the vicinity.

After reading the report, Commissioner Florence Josselyn said that although the parochial school appeared to be a desirable addition to the community, investigations revealed that the proposed school site was not in an area where it should be put, because of the other non-residential uses nearby; and if established, a precedent might be created that would enable the parish to plead hardship if the school were to be discontinued in three or four years' time under a use permit time limitation.

Parish representatives had stated at the public hearing on the school that they were willing to have a time limit of several years attached to the use permit as they plan eventually to move the parochial school elsewhere.

This fall All Saints' Parish planned to open the proposed Bishop Kipp School with two classes, kindergarten and first grade.

J. O. Handley Urges Support For Youth Center Fund Drive

"The Carmel Youth Center is one of the greatest things that ever happened to Carmel," J. O. Handley said Tuesday, opening date of Youth Center fund drive. He is former chairman of the Carmel Unified School District board of trustees, and for many years a member of the Youth Center adult board.

"I've always supported the Youth Center because it gives Carmel youth something to do, some place to go, provides an opportunity for them to learn to help themselves and invaluable experience in governing themselves." Mr. Handley was referring to the fact that the center's youth board takes care of center government, operation, expenditure and income, discipline and behavior on the Youth Center premises.

"They do a whale of a job," he concluded after remarking that a look at teenage situations in other communities emphasizes how healthy youthful recreation is in Carmel.

CARMEL SWIMMERS TRIP MONTEREY

Coming through with devastating power in the relays, the Carmel Swim Club overcame an apparently unsurmountable deficit to beat the fired-up Monterey Marlins, 225 to 219, last Saturday morning at the Carmel High pool. With the win over the Marlins, the Walthour-coached Carmel Club closes out its dual meet season and is looking forward to the big Tri-County Meet which is slated for the Gilroy High pool this Saturday morning.

Big point-makers in the Carmel victory over Monterey were Art Horning, Maynard Petersen, Mike Paul, Bruce Campbell, Gary Aebersold, Jody Oenning, Tina Miller, Pam Turner, Patty Oenning, Marilyn Lane, Marshall Pierce, Carol Heisel, Diana Whitesides, Mary Martin, Pam Petersen, Joy Fehring, John Hackbarth, Jean Tweedie, Kathy Pollock, Bobby Huber, and Jerri Harrison.

This Saturday's Tri-County Meet embraces teams from Salinas, Pacific Grove, Santa Cruz, Watsonville, Monterey, Carmel and Gilroy. The Gilroy Swim Club is the defending champion in the Tri-County Meet and rates a slight edge in this year's competition. Gilroy is loaded with fine talent in the 8-12 age group and figures to amass a heavy point total with its small fry. Carmel's well-balanced team is rated close to the top and could upset the defending champions. The Monterey Marlins have shown more improvement than any squad in the Tri-County and must be given a chance to cop the team title.

VALLEY LL NINE IN GREENFIELD FINALS

Behind the brilliant pitching of David Marvin, the Carmel Valley Little League entry in the District Nine playoffs surged to a 2-1 victory over the United Packing House Workers of Salinas last Saturday afternoon at the Greenfield Little League diamond. The Valley lads had to put on a topflight performance to edge the Salinas champs, but they were up to the occasion as Marvin sent 13 Salinas swingers back to the bench via the strikeout route and the Piston infield played errorless ball for the entire game.

With the semi-finals securely tucked away in their bat bag, the Pistons are now eagerly awaiting the District Nine championship game which will take place this Saturday at the Greenfield diamond. The Leslie Motors gang has run rampant through all competition in the Carmel Valley Little League, has whipped the best from Carmel, and has survived the best shots of the United Packing nine on its way to the finals of the District title. Another Salinas nine will furnish the opposition for the Huffman-Miyamoto led Pistons in this Saturday's finals.

In posting his 17th win of the current season, Marvin turned in a near-perfect performance as he doled out one hit and grudgingly gave up four trips to first. Marvin was especially effective with runners on the bases as he pitched himself out of tough spots in the third and sixth heats. Bob Baggett, Salinas hurler, pitched good enough ball to win most Little League games, but he was stacked against a formidable opponent in the fireballing Marvin. Baggett scattered three hits over the six-inning route and exhibited exceptional control as he turned back the Valley lads without giving up a single base on balls.

The Pistons did all their scoring in the first inning as they put two runs on the board on the strength of some fine base running by Cliff Branch and Steve Meadows. Besides a fine pitching job, Marvin also swung a big bat to drive in a run for his crew and his first inning single provided the punch to keep the Piston rally alive.

Manning the Piston club in the Greenfield Tournament are Cliff Branch, Mel Miyamoto, Steve Meadows, Dave Marvin, Bob Sinclair, Mitch Cowan, Jim Huffman, and Larry Leslie. If the Valley gets past Salinas in this Saturday's finals, it will mark the first Little League District title ever recorded by a Carmel-Carmel Valley entry.

SPORT SHOP CARDS PONY LEAGUE CHAMPS

Without swinging a bat, the Bob Baugh-managed Sport Shop Cardinals wrapped up the 1961 Pony League Championship during the past week as the Carmel Valley Broncos upset the Jade Tree Giants to eliminate the runner-up club from any title possibility. ule with 12 wins and 3 losses and finished with a three-game bulge on the Valley Broncos and the Jade Tree Giants.

This week's Pony League action saw the Toy Shop Braves put on an inspiring last-inning rally to clip the Valley Broncos, 8 to 7. The Broncos were enjoying a 7-1 lead going into the final heat when Howard Baquet's gang climbed all over pitcher Chris Marvin for seven runs to change the entire complexion of the game. Brave pitcher Clint Macy was pretty well blasted in the early going, but the courageous little righthander went the distance and picked up the victory.

Don Canham's Builders Supply Dodgers gave the Jade Tree Giants some uneasy moments during the first three innings but finally succumbed to the fine pitching of Greg Jones as the Giants powered to a 9-3 win. Pitcher Jones found the plate jumping around in the early going and gave up six walks in the first three innings, but the rangy fireballer zeroed in the plate in the last four heats and handcuffed the free-swinging Dodgers. Howdy King and Rich Wise teamed up to oppose Jones on the pitching mound and both flingers were well-received by the Giant batters.

Miya Miyamoto's Valley Broncos wound up their Pony League season with a gratifying win over the Bill Woolley-led Giants in Tuesday night's playoff game. In spite of a towering home run by Greg Jones, the Broncos made good use of five hits to manufacture seven runs and edge the Giants, 7 to 6. Pitcher Chris Marvin helped his own cause by clubbing four singles in four trips to the plate to lead the Valley lads to victory. Matt Little pitched the distance for the Giants, giving up five hits and handing out seven free trips to first base.

The 1961 Pony League Champs, the Sport Shop Cardinals, were manned by Kurt Anderson, Lee Baugh, Pete Braudrick, George Dubets, Frank Earle, Ronnie Fukagawa, Tim Head, Randy Mapstead,

tinuance on the AFA request will prevent a similar situation from arising, commissioners hope.

At yesterday's public hearing, only one protest was voiced from the throng which filled the council chambers. Dudley Nix, a resident in the vicinity of the proposed AFA headquarters, pointed out to planning commissioners traffic hazards of a narrow street leading to the former school site which in front of his home is only 11 feet wide, preventing cars from passing. He stated that the AFA chapter with a membership of 520 persons might cause considerable traffic on the narrow public approach to the proposed headquarters. Later Mr. Nix added that if the majority of the residents of the area approved the AFA development, "I'll go along." He had just wanted to clarify some of the aspects of the area in his previous speech, he concluded.

Mrs. Douglas MacGregor, vice president of the AFA chapter, stated that the president, Robert Nelson, was unable to be present as he was in San Francisco arranging for a local exhibit of the Zellerbach collection of paintings under AFA sponsorship, and introduced Victor Velissaratos, director and housing chairman of the local AFA chapter.

Mr. Velissaratos asked commissioners to grant the use permit for the instructional and educational facility for meetings and workshops at the former Forest Hill School site, approximately three-quarters of an acre in size. Two buildings were on the property, he stated, one with an area of 2,500 square feet, the other a former painting shed for children at the school.

"There are trees galore on the land," he continued. "Never will one be cut. We will keep the land in greenbelt use enclosed by a suitable fence or hedge."

Using a map submitted to the commission, Mr. Velissaratos indicated 27 off-street parking places provided at the site and hidden by trees and shrubbery. He stated that never more than 16-20 persons at a time would attend twice daily sessions of four-day workshops when they were held at the AFA headquarters, also the large building was too small for the whole membership to meet there as Mr. Nix had feared. It would not accommodate large public shows either, he ended.

Commissioner George Willox ascertained from Mr. Velissaratos that no night meetings or large parties would be held on the proposed AFA premises. "There will never be more than 35-75 people at any type of gathering," Mr. Velissaratos told Mr. Willox.

Mr. Willox also wanted to know if music would be played at the facility and if paintings would be sold on the premises. Mr. Velissaratos answered, no, to both questions and was supported on the sales question by Leonard Heller, AFA projects chairman, who said AFA by-laws prohibit any sale of paintings.

Commissioner Florence Josselyn asked Mr. Velissaratos about displays of paintings at the AFA headquarters which might mean a great number of persons coming and going on roads in the area. Mr. Velissaratos reiterated that there was not enough space for such displays which will continue to be exhibited at Monterey Peninsula College, the Carmel Arts Association or private galleries.

Miss Liesl Wurzmahn, who lives in the proposed headquarters area, stated that traffic would not be as great for the AFA facility as it was for the former Forest Hill School. She added that two recently built houses in the area had increased traffic more than the proposed institute would do, in her opinion; also there was plenty of off-street parking provided.

Edgar Bissantz, secretary of the local AFA chapter, told commissioners his group planned to paint the large building and put it in first class condition and preserve the 24 pines on the land. The off-street parking provided meant less use of city streets than if the area were developed in residential use, and removal of trees would result with home development, he added.

In answer to a question from Mrs. Josselyn, Mr. Bissantz reaffirmed that no more than 75 persons could attend gatherings at the facility, and this only three or four

Music On The Peninsula

by Mary Lindsay-Oliver
Flamenco, the Spanish Gypsy music, played by Mariano Cordoba and John Thompson, his erstwhile pupil, at Sunset Auditorium on Saturday was a comprehensive performance of the many types of primitive Spanish dance movements and songs. Cordoba says he learnt that the guitar is "more than an instrument," that "it is a way of life" to the Spanish people because it reflects so well their joys and sorrows. This does seem to be its "raison d'être" more than being regarded as a refined music art in spite of the intriguing quality of its tones, which, however, can become somewhat monotonous in an hour and a half's listening. In fact, like the Hawaiian ukelele and the Scots bagpipes, it is a folk development and as such has its place in the musical world. The few performers who have brought their playing up to brilliancy have a handicap in a large hall with the smaller tones, for people came to sit near the front who said times a year and never late at night.

City Attorney John Morse enquired if the premises conformed to possible building code regulations for public assembly. Mr. Velissaratos replied that his group would welcome inspection for any such reason.

Mrs. Josselyn suggested a police survey of traffic conditions in the area might be useful to commissioners in deciding about the use permit for the facility. Mr. Willox was concerned about exits in case of fire.

Other persons who spoke in favor of granting a use permit for the AFA headquarters were Mrs. Nellie Montague, AFA director and former president, and Marie Rowland, a resident of the area. Mrs. Kathryn Aurner, secretary of the Carmel Art Association, said her group supported the AFA development "one hundred percent" and would cooperate by making the Association's galleries available for large exhibits as they were doing for the Zellerbach show.

Franklin Dixon, speaking for the Carmel Citizens Committee, said this group also favored the AFA project, but would like to see a better solution of the traffic problem.

City Clerk Larry Rose read 20 communications from property owners in the area of the AFA project, all but one favorable. Mr. Willox pointed out that a marked map of lots in the vicinity showed that approximately 75 percent of the neighboring property owners approved the AFA headquarters. The map was submitted to commissioners by Mr. Velissaratos in better solution of the traffic problem.

Vice Chairman Fred Keeble, presiding in the absence of Chairman Herbert Blanks, stated that the continued public hearing next week would be limited to new evidence or information for or against the AFA project.

Commissioners also held public hearings on two requests for informational-directional signs for the Laky Galleries and Galerie de Tours to be placed in the center strip on Ocean Avenue. Les Laky spoke for the Laky Galleries and Robert Kaller for his Galerie de Tours. Both said the signs are needed. Action will be taken by the commission next week.

they could not hear at back or in the balcony. Nevertheless it can be delightful entertainment in such masterly hands as Cordoba's for he has given much serious effort to bringing his playing up to concert pitch.

The program included some arrangements of his own of a Christmas carol, miners' songs from various regions and from poems, Moorish strains, and other love songs and dances which delighted a good-sized audience. John Thompson, guest artist, a former resident of Carmel, displayed grace and artistry in both playing and person, particularly in his hands which denoted a temperament that could probably have excelled with a more important instrument. Anyway, his playing, in time, may even excel that of his teacher with whom he played two duets for encores. Both received the enthusiastic response of the audience.

On the afternoon of August 24, the nine-year-old pianist, Nancy Caravan, will give a short recital in the Lindsay-Oliver Studio, San Carlos and Thirteenth Avenue at 3:00 o'clock. Her program will be selected from Beethoven, Massenet and -Mendelssohn, including the Rondo movement from the Beethoven Sonata Pathétique. This is in place of her appearance at the Carmel Foundation last Wednesday when a hospital appointment interfered. Anyone interested is welcome whether in receipt of an invitation or not.

Art On The Peninsula

The Carmel Highlands Gallery will present a one-man show of the work of Ephraim Doner starting August 20. Included will be ceramic tiles, drawings and oil paintings by this local artist whose talents are commensurate with the perspicacity of his personality. This will be the first local Doner show in a number of years. Previous Peninsula exhibitions of his work have attracted wide acclaim and aroused intense interest. He has been a resident of Carmel Highlands for the past 15 years.

Mr. Doner was born in Poland and first came to the United States as a youth. He returned to Europe to study in France and travel and paint on the continent for a number of years, then came back to this country and lived in New York, San Francisco and Half Moon Bay before settling here.

Through this week the Highlands Gallery is showing oil paintings by Joshua Meador including oils, landscapes and flower studies.

Until September 9, a one-man show of paintings by John Boit Morse will be exhibited at the Feingarten Galleries on Lincoln Street.

Mr. Morse is a versatile and sensitive artist. He creates with clarity moods ranging from gay whim-sicality to sober introspection employing semi-abstract forms, fine color sense and originality of design. The result is a distinctive interpretation of ideas and impressions in several media.

He has studied at the Yale Art School, the Chicago Art Institute, the Instituto Allende in Mexico, and with Howard Warshaw in Santa Barbara. He has had studios in this country, Mallorca, Austria, and Mexico. In the latter country he taught painting and this winter will be an instructor at Le Centre d'Art in Port-au-Prince, Haiti.

A preview of the show was held on Friday evening, attended by Peninsula persons who have known Mr. Morse for many years. He is the son of S. F. B. Morse of Pebble Beach, also a painter, and the great-grandson of Samuel Finley Breese Morse, American portraitist and a founder and first president of the National Academy of Design.

Winners of the monthly art contest Tuesday afternoon at the Craft Studios, were Ion Hill of Carmel, first, Frank Craig, also a Carmel resident, second. Judges were three Carmel artists: Gus Velletri, Jane Buffington and Sam Manning. Ion Hill's winning watercolor was titled At Anchor. Frank Craig's picture, a watercolor, was titled Wharf No. 2.

Painted ceramic tiles by Geza St. Galy of Carmel will be featured in the September art show at Villa Montalvo, cultural center near Saratoga. This will be Mr. St. Galy's second exhibition at Montalvo in recent years. His tiles decorate Carmel Plaza buildings and the new San Jose Civic Center.

Geza St. Galy studied and worked in many art forms in Budapest, Vienna and Florence, but concentrated on ceramics. He settled here after leaving his native Hungary when it came under Communist control. He is a member and past president of the Carmel Arts Commission, president of the Carmel Crafts Guild and founder of the Contemporary Religious Art Exhibit held annually at the Church of the Wayfarer during Bach Festival week.

Dr. Rose Stern

Dr. Rose Tepper Stern, 90, a retired osteopath who had lived at Santa Fe Street and Fifth Avenue for the past seven years, died on Sunday in a local hospital following a short illness. She was born in Montreal, Canada, on September 18, 1870.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Moreno of Santa Monica; two grandchildren, Mrs. Emma Rose Layton of Carmel and John Moreno of Northridge; and five great-grandchildren: Thomas, Patricia, Caroline, Steven and Letitia Layton of Carmel.

Graveside services were held yesterday afternoon in Hollywood Memorial Cemetery in Southern California.

Theatre Arts Mozart Concerts To Provide Strauss Scholarship

Two San Francisco Symphony players will perform the entire Mozart cycle of sonatas for violin and piano at the Carmel Woman's Club on the evenings of August 24, 26, 29, and 31 at 8:30 o'clock. The series will be called the Sally Strauss Memorial Concerts and be presented as Musica Viva programs by the Institute of Theatre Arts to establish a year's tuition scholarship for a deserving and talented Peninsula student at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music. The performing artists will be David Schneider, violinist, and Reina Schiro, pianist.

The conservatory scholarship, first of its kind on the Peninsula, honors the memory of Sally Strauss, nee Ehrman, a professional violinist who married Lawrence Strauss, a recital singer. Both lived in Carmel for a number of years prior to their deaths. Previous to this they were San Francisco residents. Mr. Strauss was a voice teacher in Berkeley, also at Mills College and the San Francisco Conservatory of Music.

After moving to Carmel, Mrs. Strauss maintained an active interest in the development of this community as a music center. This interest took the form of assistance to all musicians whether famous or unknown. Prior to moving here, Mrs. Strauss was a frequent visitor and an enthusiastic supporter of Carmel musical events.

David Schneider, violinist for the Mozart cycle, is playing with the San Francisco Symphony for the twenty-fifth year. He is considered one of the finest violinists on the West Coast and for the last 11 years has been a member of the California String Quartet. He played here in the first Bach Festival.

Reina Schiro, pianist for the Sally Strauss Memorial Concerts, has been the San Francisco Symphony concert pianist for 10 years. She has been accompanist for almost all great artists appearing in the San Francisco area and has performed with the New York Ballet Company.

The recipient of the Sally Strauss Memorial Scholarship will be selected on Sunday afternoon in a competition judged by Jack Benson, Ronald Ondrejka, David Schneider, Reina Schiro and Angie Machado. The winner will be announced on August 31 at the closing concert of the Mozart cycle and the scholarship awarded at the same time.

of The Paul Mortuary is a factor to consider in the selection of funeral service. Facilities for Cremation, Earth Burial, and Inurnment are maintained by The Paul Mortuary for Peninsula residents.

When only partial service is desired, The Paul Mortuary cooperates fully, performing any portion of our complete service requested. Advance arrangements for burial or inurnment elsewhere need not create an artificial barrier when the finer services of The Paul Mortuary are desired.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

"King John was not a good man,
He had his little ways,
And sometimes no one spoke to him,
For days and days and days."
So spoke A. A. Milne in a poem some years ago. Today we have a new biography of King John, which shows him to have been a king of great astuteness, and in many ways second only to his father, Henry II. This work was done by Prof. Wilfred Warren, who is a lecturer in history at Queen's University in Belfast. This is a rather scholarly book with copious notes and bibliographical references, but these are collected at the back of the book and need trouble only those readers who are interested in them.

Dr. Marie Warner is a gynecologist who has made a 35 year study of infertility and the medical aspects of marriage. Her new book is entitled The Couple Who Want a Baby, an Intimate Discussion of the Causes and Treatment of Infertility.

A book which would be interesting to most women is Principles and Practice of Beauty Culture by Florence Wall. This is a textbook of beauty culture, lengthy and explicit. But it gives clear directions for anyone with a problem, or anyone contemplating a home permanent or other do-it-yourself project.

The late Peter Freuchen is said to have known more about the Eskimo, than any other white man in the world. He lived among them for many years. After his death his wife Dagmar Freuchen brought together into a book much of the material which Peter Freuchen had written about the Eskimos. It is entitled Peter Freuchen's Book of the Eskimos. The illustrations are photographs, and text is in the first person as Freuchen wrote it.

A practical book on all types of sewing is The Better Homes and Gardens Sewing Book. Clear directions both in text and illustrations show the reader how to fashion clothing, how to handle special fabrics, how to make sure of the fit of any garment, and how to do special things like appliqueing, buttonholing, and similar artistic endeavors. Many of the illustrations are in color.

Marvin Kalb's new book entitled Dragon in the Kremlin is the result of his years spent in Moscow and his experiences as Specialist on Soviet Affairs for CBS.

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Brotherhood will be a theme dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon on "Mind."

Paul's exhortation to the Colosians (3) will be included in the Scriptural readings:

"Lie not to one another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds; and have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him; Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free; but Christ is all, and in all."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "With one Father, even God, the whole family of man would be brethren; and with one Mind and that God, or good, the brotherhood of man would consist of Love and Truth, and have unity of Principle and spiritual power

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

A new farm communications convenience, the Farm Inter-phone has been designed to improve efficiency and save man hours for farmers and ranchers.

The farmer and his wife
can talk between the house and outbuildings or yard, and can make or receive outside calls from any of these locations. They can talk to all parts of the farm or ranch simultaneously.
And anyone called can answer by simply talking in the direction of the nearest speaker.

The Farm Interphone saves time and steps by keeping everyone within speaking distance of each other. To learn more about it, just call our business office or see your telephone service man.

the Circarama tour of "America the Beauti-

unique movie takes you to Times Square, a New

Grand Canyon and many other parts of our land.
The effect is breathtaking.

Keeping your telephone ready to operate around the clock is one of our most important jobs.

To do this, a constant supply of electricity is needed.
Big batteries like these supply the electricity. We keep them charged with generators which operate on commercial power.

If disaster strikes at outside power sources, the batteries can provide electricity to keep your phone operating for several hours.
In addition, we have standby generators that can provide service indefinitely, if necessary.

Planning ahead so your phone calls will go through—is another way telephone people work to serve you better.

Thousands Expected Aug. 27 For Annual Serra Pilgrimage

The Annual Pilgrimage to the grave of Padre Junipero Serra, O.F.M. at Mission San Carlos Borromeo, Carmel, will be held on August 27.

The pilgrimage originated as an activity of the Third Order of St. Francis in the Bay area. The celebration has since expanded, and civic awareness of Padre Serra as one of the State's earliest and greatest pioneer-founders has accompanied the religious recognition.

Sponsoring the pilgrimage will be the Most Rev. Aloysius J. Wilfinger, C.S.S.R., D.D., Bishop of Monterey-Fresno. The Most Rev. Harry A. Clinch, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of Monterey-Fresno, will be the host and celebrant of a Pontifical High Mass in the Mission at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Preacher at the Mass will be the Reverend Terence Cronin, O.F.M., Minister Provincial of the Franciscan Province of St. Barbara. Following the Mass, a religious observance will be conducted at the tomb of Father Serra, who is buried beneath the sanctuary of the Carmel Mission.

Assisting in the celebration, in addition to individual civic leaders, is a committee composed of representatives of the Council of Catholic Men, the Council of Catholic Women, the Catholic Daughters of America, the Serra Clubs, the Native Sons and the Native Daughters of the Golden West, the Young Men's Institute, the Young Ladies' Institute and the Third Order of St. Francis.

Chartered buses will leave St. Boniface Church, San Francisco, for Carmel Mission on Sunday morning, August 27, and return in the evening. For reservations and tickets, information can be had by writing to Franciscan Fathers, 133 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco.

Space will be made available at Carmel Mission for picnic lunches. Carmel's Third Order fraternity will maintain a coffee and soft-drink concession.

Elizabeth Keyser

Mrs. Elizabeth Callison Keyser, a Carmel resident for seven years, died on August 7 while attending a family reunion in Salt Lake City.

She was the widow of Malcolm A. Keyser Sr., a Salt Lake City businessman and civic leader, whose death occurred in 1954. After her husband's death Mrs. Keyser came here to live until last year when she moved to Pacific Grove. She was born on April 28, 1889, in Des Moines, Iowa.

She is survived by a son, Malcolm A. Keyser Jr., of Salt Lake City; three daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Masson of Los Angeles and Mrs. Helen K. McClure and Mrs. Joan K. Hansell, both of Salt Lake City; two brothers, W. G. Callison of Longview, Washington, and Paul F. Callison of Kelso, Washington; a sister, Mrs. William Nelson of Menlo Park; and ten grandchildren.

CAPTAIN CHARLTON HERE

Captain John B. Charlton, U. S. Army Intelligence, of Baltimore, Maryland, spent Monday in Carmel with his mother, Mrs. Aimee B. Charlton. He was en route to Okinawa.

During 1955-56, Captain Charlton was a student of Cantonese at the Army Language School in Monterey. Since then he has served for three years in Japan.

Symphony Seeks New Concert Master For 1961-62 Season

Monterey County Symphony announces that it is seeking a candidate to fill the position of concert master for its forthcoming 1961-62 season.

Interested individuals from among the orchestra's personnel, or any other qualified musicians in the community are asked to get in touch with the Symphony's resident conductor and music director, Ronald Ondrejka, prior to the auditions, September 1.

All applicants will be expected to perform a work from the standard repertoire, and are asked to furnish their own accompanist. Candidates for the concert master post will be judged upon: the performance of a solo of the individual's choice, the ability to sight read, and a short discussion on orchestral bowing.

Conductor Ondrejka, who will set the audition schedule, may be reached through General Delivery, Carmel, or by calling MA 4-8046 any afternoon between 4:00 and 6:00 o'clock.

Carmelo 4-H Members Tell Service Clubs About Fair Auction

Carmel Rotary Club heard about the Monterey County Fair's Junior Livestock Auction at its meeting last week at La Playa Hotel. Manuel De Leon and Bill Muscutt, two Carmelo 4-H members, joined auctioneer Art Bayer for talks on the August 26 event at the Fair.

A number of Carmel Valley farm youths have been boosting the auction where beef, sheep and swine will be sold to buyers from a wide surrounding area. Carol Lee Amos, Judi Harris, and Jenny Wolter have added the feminine viewpoint at various service clubs on the Peninsula.

Last year's proxy buyers included John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon. Senator Fred Farr and Assemblyman Alan Pattee will take bids again this year as they have done for many past sales.

Naval Postgraduate School, was on sabbatical leave. While he was in Europe he visited laboratories in England, Scotland, Norway, France, Sweden, Holland, Germany, Spain, Italy, Greece and Switzerland, also wrote nine chapters of a textbook on the design of instruments and machinery. Susan attended a school in Lausanne, Switzerland, during the year also accompanied her parents on some of their travels.

Dick Leutzinger Married

After a honeymoon in British Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wolcott Leutzinger will live in Eugene, Oregon, while Dick completes his final year at the University of Oregon, and his bride, the former Anne Priscilla Hibbard of Oregon City, teaches in nearby Springfield. They were married recently in Oregon City, home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Hibbard. Present at the ceremony were Dick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Leutzinger of Carmel, his sister, Mary Jane Leutzinger, who was a bridesmaid at her brother's wedding, and Thomas Allan Leutzinger, Dick's younger brother who was an usher.

Dick is a graduate of Carmel High School. Following military service he enrolled at the University of Oregon where he is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. His bride is a graduate of the University of Oregon and was a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Culture Vulture Events

The first fall meeting of the Culture Vultures, an organization of service wives who explore cultural, physical and historical aspects of the Peninsula, will be on August 24 at 8:00 o'clock in the Silk Horse Lounge at the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School, according to Mrs. Paul Smith, Culture Vulture president.

The first activity of the group is scheduled for August 30 and will be a tide walk at Point Lobos. Members are asked to meet at the entrance to the state park on Highway One at 8:00 o'clock in the morning. The same afternoon, 2:00 o'clock, Culture Vultures will take part in a nature walk at Point Lobos. The meeting place will again be at the park entrance. The park naturalist will conduct both activities. All members and persons interested in joining the group may obtain further information from Mrs. Smith, FR 2-9072.

Governor and Mrs. Brown Here

Preceded by a California Highway Patrol escort, Edmund G. Brown, Governor of California, arrived at the home of Senator and Mrs. Fred Farr on Friday. Mrs. Brown accompanied the Governor to the Peninsula, also their daughter, Kathy, who will be a junior year student at Santa Catalina School for Girls next year. Kathy and Mrs. Brown spent the morning in Carmel shopping for Kathy's school uniforms then joined the Governor at the Farr's before Governor Brown and Senator Farr had lunch at the Old Capital Club while Mrs. Brown and Kathy lunched at the Farr home with Mrs. Farr. Later in the afternoon the Governor, Mrs. Brown and Kathy flew back to Sacramento.

Boy and Girl Born

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Price of Carmel gave a new son, whom they have named Thomas Edmond. He was born at the Community Hospital on July 31.

Rebecca Lucia Fay was born on August 1 at the Community Hospital. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fay of Carmel.

Donald Browns Move Here

Last weekend Carmel's assistant city clerk and license collector, Arthur Plaxton, drove a big truck to Riverside, loaded it with furniture belonging to his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown, then returned to the Peninsula, leaving lesser vehicles on the highway both going and coming. A former sports car racer, Mr. Plaxton, was delighted with the respect accorded his moving van at intersections, even if it was out of his preferred speed class.

He also was delighted that the Browns and their children, Bruce, six, Maria, five, and Julie, three and a half, are to be permanent Carmel residents. They are living with Mr. and Mrs. Plaxton at present while deciding just where in this area they will establish their home.

Mr. Brown is an architect who has been practicing in Riverside since graduating from the University of Southern California. He is now associated with the Monterey firm of Wallace Holm, A.I.A. His wife, Betty, is a Carmel High School and Stanford University graduate.

"At last we are here to live," she rejoices, and the Plaxtons are just as happy as she is about the move.

Dr. Ben Stilwell Coming Home

For the next few weeks Mrs. Joseph W. Stilwell will have her daughter, Alison (Mrs. William R. Cameron), and her grandchildren, Cathy, Laurie and Bruce Cameron as her guests. Their home is at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus, Ohio.

At the end of October, Mrs. Stilwell's younger son, Dr. Ben Stilwell, and his wife will come to Carmel. They are returning from Nagasaki, Japan, at present by way of Europe. Dr. Stilwell has been in Japan with the group investigating results of atomic bomb injuries. He plans to practice in California. Mrs. Stilwell reports, but he is not sure whether he will settle in Carmel or not. He is a graduate of Carmel High School and Stanford University and received his medical degree from McGill University Medical School in Montreal, Canada.

Realtors Plan Annual Barbecue

Members of the Carmel Board of Realtors at their meeting last Friday appointed Enos Fouratt to be chairman for the annual barbecue of the group in September, the date to be announced later.

Speaker at last week's meeting was Thomson J. Hudson, chairman of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors, who discussed the recent reassessment of Carmel property and emphasized that supervisors, on the first three Mondays in July each year, hear appeals and discuss tax problems with property owners, who, he said, should be aware of comparable taxes paid by other property owners in any area before protesting.

The Monterey Board of Realtors invited members of the Carmel board to accompany them on a bus trip last Saturday to the Giants-Cincinnati game at Candlestick Park. Those who went on the expedition from Carmel were Gladys and Markham Johnston, Mrs. Henry Newman and her son, Randy.

Donald Stewart, Monterey County assessor, will speak at the September regular monthly meeting of the Carmel board.

Mr. Porter Reads At Town House

Arthur Porter, who presents a local Sunday afternoon radio program of readings, will read at Carmel Foundation Town House on Wednesday afternoon. His program begins at 3:00 o'clock. Tea will be served an hour later.

Mr. Porter received voice training at the London College of Choristers and developed his dramatic ability during years of theatrical activity. While interned in Japanese prison camps during World War II, he organized amateur theatricals as a morale builder for other prisoners. Wednesday afternoon he will present a varied program selected from readings proven to be most popular judging by fan mail from radio listeners.

Frank Ryan

Frank Joseph Ryan, a retired airline captain, died early yesterday morning in his home at San Antonio Street and Isabella Way on Carmel Point where he had lived since coming here from the East last April.

Captain Ryan was born on December 21, 1899, in San Francisco. He recently retired from the position of airline captain pilot for Allegheny Airlines operating out of Washington, D.C., a position he had held for 16 years.

He had been a pilot for over 40 years. At the beginning of World War II, from 1939-40, he flew with the Royal Air Force, later ferried planes to England from the United States. From 1942-44 he was a captain with Pan-American Airlines.

Captain Ryan was one of the first fliers to receive a commercial pilot's license and was a member of the Ancient and Secret Order of Quiet Birdmen, a group composed of pioneers in aviation.

He was married in Miami, Florida, on October 15, 1957, to his wife, June, who lives here and is his only close survivor.

Funeral services are pending and will be announced later by Paul Mortuary.

Sam Sails Through Typhoon

Sam Farr returned to Carmel yesterday after working as a deckhand on the President Cleveland during the ship's latest trip to the Orient.

He visited Hong Kong, Manila, Honolulu and Yokohama but only got a "peek through a porthole" at Kobe because he was in sick bay with tonsillitis, the result of working all through a typhoon.

Sam will spend the rest of the summer here with his parents, Senator and Mrs. Fred Farr; return in September for his third year at Willamette University in Oregon.

Nicholas Attends Oxford Seminar

Nicholas Miller arrived on Monday to visit his mother, Mrs. Valentine Miller of Carmel Highlands. He has spent the summer in England seeing relatives with his grandmother, Mrs. Alec Miller, a former Carmel resident, and his father, Alastair Miller of Santa Barbara.

Nicholas also attended a seminar at Oxford University on Peace and Disarmament. He will return to Harvard University in September for his junior year as a government major. Next week his sister, Allison, and his younger brother, Andrew, will also return from a summer holiday in England and Scotland.

Chitwood Persuaded To Reconsider His Council Resignation

Whittlesey quickly proposed a resolution to the effect that the council's action was not to be interpreted as a lack of confidence in the youth center and that Councilman Chitwood reconsider his resignation. Everybody voted for this except Norberg.

The next few days citizens and individual council members went to work "unruffling John's feathers."

Since his verbal resignation had been officially rejected at the council meeting, only a written resignation could be effective and Councilman Chitwood was persuaded not to take pen in hand.

His comment: "Everybody has been so kind and considerate. I am convinced that the friendship is there and that we can continue as a close-knit group."

FIRE AND AMBULANCE CALLS

Thursday, 3:29 o'clock in the afternoon, the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department extinguished a fire at the Leonard Cosky Plumbing Shop on Dolores Street between Seventh and Eighth Avenues. Slight damage to the shingles on the roof resulted from the blaze.

Sunday morning at 9:33 o'clock, the ambulance responded to a police call to Second Avenue and Santa Fe Street where Elizabeth Menes hit her head against the windshield of a car in an intersection collision. She was taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital.

Thompsons Visit Mrs. Stewart

Mr. and Mrs. K. Stanley Thompson of Palo Alto will end a three-week visit here with Mrs. Thompson's mother, Mrs. Charles A. Stewart of Carmel Point, when they return home next week. Also Mrs. Stewart's guests are the Thompsons' sons, Stewart and Kenneth. Their daughter, Katie, is attending the current session at the Tennis Ranch in Carmel Valley.

Expected soon is Ned Luker, Mrs. Stewart's grandson and the son of Rear Admiral and Mrs. George R. Luker of Colorado Springs. Ned will visit his grandmother before returning to Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee.

Testimonial Dinner Honors Mercurio

A testimonial dinner given last night in Biff's Restaurant, Monterey, by the local barbers' union honored Paul Mercurio of Carmel, recently elected president of the State of California Board of Barber Examiners.

Special local guests included State Senator Fred Farr of Carmel, Carmel Martin Jr., chairman of the Monterey County Democratic Central Committee, and Peter Ferrante.

Attending from out of town was Alvin Holt of Los Angeles, international barbers' union representative, who brought a message to Mr. Mercurio from the president of the Barbers' International, W. C. Birthright, whom Mr. Holt had recently seen at International headquarters in Indianapolis.

Other out of town guests were Don Knauss and George Welsh, members of the State Board of Barber Examiners, James Cramp, executive secretary of the State Board, and Vincent S. Dalsimer, director of the State of California Department of Professional and Vocational Standards. Mr. Dalsimer will be honored with a testimonial dinner on August 26 in Los Angeles when California's Governor Edmund G. Brown will be toastmaster.

Mr. Mercurio, who operates a barber shop in Pine Inn, was appointed a member of the State Board of Barber Examiners by Governor Brown on December 5, 1960.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

plants are in the garden.

A retired Arctic explorer, Mr. Leffingwell makes a hobby of cultivating tuberous begonias and each summer Carmelites are treated to an exhibition of his blooms.

There was no tree-tour Tuesday afternoon. For the first time in the memory of the oldest city councilman nobody sent in a request for permission to remove a tree or to allow his driveway or garden to encroach on city streets. Nobody even asked to have a tree trimmed to improve his view. The council's consistent no to most of the removal and trimming petitions may be having its beneficial effect.

"Once there was a man in a condemned cell and he got to thinking about all the places he'd like to see again and he was a man who had already traveled a lot and knew about such things, and he was thinking and deciding between Capri and California, and he was picturing Point Lobos and Carmel, and he calculated that if he sold a few shares of stock, he could afford to drive out there, but then he remembered that there was gasoline rationing now, and, besides, he was going to be hanged at 8:00 o'clock tomorrow morning."

Barbara Jensen furnished us with the above quotation from Sinclair Lewis' Gideon Planish. "Red" Lewis knew what he was talking about when he spoke of Carmel and Point Lobos. Whether he was here long enough to qualify as a resident or not is a point of dispute among the old timers, but there is no question that for a time he was a part of the community in the very early days.

Listings under Dudley Swim in the new telephone directory indicate the Swims have solved a communications problem which plagues many families. Separate numbers are given for the Swim home, Mr. Swim's study, and Teenagers.

Mr. and Mrs. Swim's older children, Marilyn and Roger, are Carmel High School students. Their younger son, Gaylord, is junior high school age. Mrs. Swim reports the new listing is a big help.

although, as yet, all the children's friends have not learned about the special line. If they call the older listings, however, they are told the new number. When the school directory comes out, Mrs. Swim says, she thinks the problem will be completely solved. She and Mr. Swim thought it unfair to list one child and not the others. Teenagers, she declares, clearly defines the family telephone system.

A new, bigger American flag is now being flown in Devendorf Plaza, a gift to the city from architect Robert Stanton. Presentation of the gift came about as the result of a casual observation made to Stanton not long ago by a passer-by who saw Stanton's own flag flying in front of the architect's place of business and commented, "I wish the city had one that size." So the public-spirited Stanton purchased another 9x5-foot banner and presented it at the city hall. The city council acknowledged the gift with great appreciation last night.

William Schaeffler

William Joseph Schaeffler, 12, was presumably drowned on Tuesday at a summer camp near Fallon, Nevada. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph Schaeffler, Sr., of Carmel and Denver, Colorado.

The boy was born in Denver on June 28, 1949, and lived there until a year ago when his family came to Carmel.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a brother, James Albert Schaeffler, and his maternal grandparents, Colonel and Mrs. James A. Durnford, all of Carmel.

Funeral services are pending and will be announced later by Paul Mortuary.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

Metz Durham Finds Former Home Town Strangely Changed

out. When I did my gas tank burst into flame.

"I woke up at the bottom of a five-foot deep ditch by the roadside with dozens of people around and someone pouring lemonade over me — they didn't have any water handy — and everyone was congratulating me on my dog. It seemed Bob had jumped into the burning gasoline and pulled me out and down into the ditch."

The incident was reported to the Latham Foundation for Humane Education who choose Bob from a list of dogs from all over the country to honor with "Bravest Dog" title.

"There were undoubtedly other dogs just as brave," observed Mr. Durham, "but they hadn't the number of witnesses Bob had. Nearly a hundred people stopped to see him the day of the accident."

Besides all this, Bob had meanwhile licked every dog in Carmel, his owner recalled. He died a hero in 1937.

Mr. Durham, who was born in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Canada, and came to Carmel via San Francisco, carries a full name of Elliott Manery Durham which no one ever calls him, especially not in Carmel. "Metz" is a nickname applied in the town of Metz, France, in memory of some exploit during his service with the Canadian Army between 1914 and 1919. He wouldn't reminisce on this topic, but even

Glenn Terry Buys Stamp Shop From Leland Stallings

Stallings Stamp Shop on Dolores Street has been sold to Glenn Terry, who was associated with the oil business in Bakersfield until moving here recently with his wife and their ten-year-old daughter, Megan.

Leland S. Stallings, former stamp shop proprietor, will continue to live in Carmel. He opened the business 16 years ago when he moved to Carmel from Minnesota where he was a teacher and real estate appraiser.

Mrs. Durham calls him "Metz," so "Metz" it is.

The couple moved from Carmel to London where "Metz" was a consultant to light industry, and eventually to Nottingham, where he was managing director of a food and pharmaceuticals firm until his retirement from business in 1950.

"The tempo is slower in England," he commented, "like Carmel used to be."

A member of the Nottingham City Council for the past dozen years, he stood for election as alderman (a sort of senior councilman there) on the Conservative Party ticket just prior to his current junket abroad, turning down an invitation to run for Lord Mayor of Nottingham because of his coming absence.

"I was once a long time ago invited to stand for mayor of Carmel," Metz said, "but they found out I didn't even have a vote here let alone the citizenship qualifications for office." (Canadian citizenship, which Metz Durham still retains, qualifies him to hold office in the United Kingdom, since a Canadian citizen is a British subject under British law.)

Actually he is not called "police commissioner" back in Nottingham, but "Chairman of the Watch Committee" for the city of 350,000.

Part of his West Coast time was taken up with a tour of San Francisco's Police Department, where he studied American police methods with a comparative eye and rode around on night beats with bay area policemen.

He believes the San Francisco department may be the finest in the world. But the unarmed lawmen of Britain who often take on armed criminals with their bare hands and put emphasis on meticulous examination and laboratory work are high in the esteem of Mr. Durham.

"I once had to reach my own nephew for an emergency message," he said. "All I knew was that he was somewhere in Scotland and likely to be traveling by bus. I gave this information to the police together with a description of him and they had him in fifteen minutes. It really is a 'tight little island.'"

The Durhams, who remember Carmel and Carmelites fondly and held a continuing open house at their country estate complete with castle during the war for Carmel servicemen and others from the States, say they will leave Thursday for Lake Tahoe and touch several other points in the States before returning to Nottingham.

"Carmel used to have the ideal police system," Metz remembered. "All Gus Englund had to do was stand on a corner with his horse and give the place atmosphere."

Durham sighed with a memory just conjured up from his earliest days in Carmel. "I went into a Carmel drug store for cigarettes," he said. "There was a sign: 'I am down at the Manzanita Club playing poker. If you see anything you want to buy, help yourself and leave the money on the counter.'"

There's nothing like that any more, not even in England.

J. O. Handley Urges Support For Youth Center Fund Drive

Carmel Valley served as a kick-off event for the annual appeal of the Youth Center for budget assistance.

In recent years, financial aid has been received from the Community Chest and recreation tax income administered by the Carmel Unified School District. These funds are not available this year, according to the public letter prepared by P. A. McCreery, president of the adult board of the Carmel Youth Center, Inc.

Because of this withdrawal of financial support, the youth of Carmel must conduct their own fund drive. Funds from the Crosby Youth Fund are reserved for capital outlay only and cannot be used for operation expenses.

The 700 members of the Carmel Youth Center from all parts of the Carmel Unified School District help finance activities at the teenage recreation center through special work projects, dues and admission fees. They also raise money by a food concession at the annual Crosby Golf Tournament and other major Pebble Beach events. These earnings materially aid the center budget but help is needed from the citizens of Carmel, Mr. McCreery emphasizes.

In addition to Mr. McCreery, other officers of the Youth Center adult board are City Councilman John Chitwood, vice president; Mrs. Karen Hicks, secretary treasurer. Adult board members are J. O. Handley, at large; George Mosolf, high school; James Buffington, Carmel Business Association; George Dear, Lions Club; Mrs. George Marshall, Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services; Mrs. Eva Belangee, Carmel Woman's Club; Glenn Sorey, Rotary Club; Robert Connell, Kiwanis Club.

ergarten and first grade, with enrollment not to exceed 40 pupils. Each year the parish planned to add another grade up to fourth grade with a proposed maximum school enrollment of 60 pupils.

Immediately after the 4-1 vote against the use permit, Commissioner Hugh Smith giving the only favorable vote, Mr. Hill gave to the press the following written statement.

"We will appeal. The fact that we are not permitted to use our facilities more than one day a week is a sad commentary on our culture today.

"Our goal is to build a Christian civilization beginning with children. We are not stopped, we will continue."

At Its Regular Meeting Last Week The Council Also ...

Passed eight resolutions on personnel matters including the hiring of Dick Lawitzke as police desk clerk on a casual basis at $2.33 per hour, hiring of James M. Cardwell as a fireman to replace the late D. Machado, the hiring of Richard DeAmaral as a casual employee of the fire department at $1.84 per hour, hiring of Robert W. Parkhurst as a streetman to replace Vincent R. Colletto, advancing to regular status policeman Peter G. Koenen, advancing to regular status streetman John Molteni Jr., promoting city employee Thomas B. Moreland to Step 4, Range 20, and employing Sidney L. Williams at $2.78 per hour on a casual basis during the vacation of the building inspector.

Heard a motion to drop from the agenda the proposal by Norberg to amend the code to require disaster shelters in all new buildings as a Civil Defense measure. The motion died for lack of a second. So did a motion that the council investigate Civil Defense requirements through federal, state and local agencies. But a motion to return the matter to the Public Welfare Committee for the same type of action finally passed.

Adopted a committee report prepared by Whitaker and Chitwood outlining the council's position on the freeway plan, particularly the Hatton Canyon leg, as requested by State Senator Fred Farr, who has asked guidance from Peninsula cities in formulating his own stand on a state level. Among other things, the report asked that the Hatton project be held up since the major portion of the proposed route south of the canyon leg has been dropped from the freeway master plan.

Adopted a report backing an Assembly Resolution requiring steps of public buildings be marked with safety borders for better vision.

Set for August 30 at 8:00 o'clock a hearing on two zoning amendments and an appeal from the board of adjustments on an informational-directional sign for the Carmel Playhouse, Inc.

came out $215 less than submitted by the city clerk last week. Final budget: $495,236; last year's: $493,926. Budget is actually up but sources of revenue such as sales taxes, new improved property on the assessment roles, etc., are also up. And the city finished with a surplus this year.

The 81 cent city tax rate breaks down as follows: 35 cents general fund; 19 cents, employee retirement; 25 cents library, and two cents, 1949 bond retirement.

Gunnar Norberg voted "no" on the budget as he has for the past several years, for the same reason. He feels that the library budget should be reduced ten percent and he is opposed to setting aside $10,000 a year for purchase of the White property.

The council will hold a special meeting Tuesday afternoon, 5:00 o'clock, to take formal action on the resolution adopting the budget and fixing the tax rate.
